Right-of-Way Permit Application

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

1. Why do I need a right-of-way permit?

The City of Highland Park is responsible for maintaining right-of-way under its jurisdiction in acceptable repair so that it is reasonably safe and convenient for the public. Regulation and control of all right-of-way work is necessary to provide efficient and safe operations and to utilize the full potential of the right-of-way investment.

2. What is the right-of-way?

The right-of-way is the land over which the City of Highland Park has jurisdiction for public utilities, sidewalk, alley, and roadway. Right-of-way may be obtained by deed, statutory or plat dedication or condemnation. Nothing may be installed, excavated, cut, removed, modified, or placed in the right-of-way without a permit from the City of Highland Park.

3. When is a right-of-way permit required?

Any individual or organization who desires to perform work in the public road right-of-way or on property owned by the City of Highland Park or within an easement must submit a permit application that describes the activity.

Examples of work that typically require a permit are:

- Adding or improving a driveway approach, sidewalk, storm drain, sewer line, or water line
- Adding, improving, or maintaining a public or private utility, pipeline, wire, conduit, sewer, etc.
- Surveying and other engineering operations
- Placing a banner, decoration, or similar object
- Right-of-way encroachment
- Closing a section of road for a parade, celebration, festival, demonstration, or similar activity
- Grading or excavation, landscaping, tree trimming, or tree removal
- Any construction activity that impacts stormwater runoff into or around road rights-of-way, in or around City drains, or within new subdivisions, mobile home developments, new condominium developments, or property owned by the City (e.g., City parks)

4. How do I apply for a right-of-way permit in the City of Highland Park?

To apply for a permit, submit an application containing the following:

- Completed City of Highland Park permit application
- Minimum three (3) sets of plans drawn to scale
- Initial review and permit fees

Right-of-Way Permit Application

7. Why are additional funds sometimes required during the review process?

The fees are based on a one-time review and one pre-application meeting if necessary. Depending on the unique and varying issues regarding a particular project, some projects may require additional meetings or resubmission of plans due to changes, missing information, or requirements not being met. A complete, well-designed and detailed plan that follows the codes and ordinances of the City will help avoid the accumulation of additional fees.

8. How long will it take to obtain my permit?

The City of Highland Park has established a goal that permits shall be reviewed within 30 days of original submission. Some larger or more complex projects may require more time, as may projects with resubmittals.

9. I have multiple construction activities. Do I need different permits for each activity?

Based on the size and/or type of project and or proposed activities, multiple permits for different construction activities is preferred.

10. What can be done to speed up the time it takes to get a construction permit?

The plan review process can be a complex and lengthy procedure. However, a well-researched and properly prepared set of plans submitted with sufficient details, sections, and information necessary to determine compliance with the City of Highland Park standards and specifications reduce delays and the number of resubmittals. Before submission of a permit application package, make sure you refer to the City of Highland Park Standard Plans for Permit Construction, a collection of drawings and details for construction items utilized in typical permit work. These standards may be obtained from our website at: www.highlandparkmi.gov.

In addition, carefully review the Construction Plan Checklist published by the City Engineering Department. These forms, intended for both commercial and residential construction, have been developed by the City Engineering Department as a guide for applicants to submit more complete and thorough plans with their application.

Some permits require the applicant to obtain approvals, agreements, or permits from other governmental agencies or agencies with jurisdictional authority over the proposed work. Early in the review process, your review engineer will identify all necessary requirements before your permit can be issued. Prompt action by the applicant will help ensure a timelier finish to the review process.

Finally, make sure that, when corresponding with the City Engineering Department, always include your plan review number as a reference with your transmittal. The City Engineering Department receives numerous correspondence and plan sets daily. A correct review number will significantly assist in directing these materials to the appropriate file and review engineer.

11. What are some possible permits, approvals, or agreements that may be required from other governments or agencies before my permit can be issued?

Depending on the scope of work and location of the project, permits, approvals, and/or agreements may be required from other agencies, including, but not limited to, Wayne County, MDOT, MDEQ, adjacent municipalities, FEMA, US Army Corps of Engineers, and railroad companies, before a City of Highland Park construction permit may be issued.

12. Can I proceed with my permit work after plans for the project have been approved?

Before permit work can begin, an approved permit must be obtained from the City Engineering Department. Even with approved plans, construction work in the right-of-way will be deemed unauthorized. The City of Highland Park will direct the unauthorized activity be halted and a permit secured to restore right-of-way to its original condition. If the person or organization who performed the unauthorized work fails to obtain the permit, the City of Highland Park will effect the necessary work at the expense of the person or organization.

After all items identified by the final inspection have been resolved and all required documentation has been submitted, the City Engineer will authorize final acceptance of the completed permit work. Upon final acceptance, any final permit charges are calculated, the permit is released, and if there are remaining funds from the bond deposit, a refund is requested to be dispersed to the depositor.

15. What types of inspections are required?
